

Institute for Indian Mother & Child

Short Pictorial Report on Dhaki Campus

10th March, Kolkata, India.

Dhaki is a deep rural remote village in the delta of river Ganga, 90 k.m. south to Kolkata. 90% of the population of this area never meets a doctor when they are sick, 40 % people can not read and write, 30 % people are living in below poverty level.

Dhaki Center

Dhaki Peace Center & Fish Pond

IIMC initiated one health center for this village 20 years before, and within a few years, our Spanish coordinator identified as most needy area and involve his close circle friends and families to build up outdoor and indoor hospital, and then in further all our supporting countries contributed to construct school, microcredit, women peace council etc.

Nutrition for pregnant mothers

Waiting for doctor

Doctor with sick people

Every Wednesday and Saturday 4 – 6 doctors and 6 – 8 international volunteers and local health staffs take care of 300 – 500 poor and sick people giving medical, nursing, nutritional and free medicines.

Nursing and health care

Dhaki Indoor

Nutrition for old age people

There is indoor hospital for 20 mothers and children, who can stay and get everything free of cost.

Dhaki School

Class Room

Mother in Microcredit

There is pre-primary & primary school, 350 children of first generation learner, 3,000 mothers are member of microcredit and 200 women members of peace council, cow project, fish cultivation, care of elderly people altogether Dhaki is Role Model Project of IIMC – Mission for developmental work.

Peace Council Mothers

The Cow Project

Fish cultivation

We all people of Dhaki area and IIMC authority remain ever THANKFUL to our all friends and supporters who are continuously supporting thousands of poor and backward people.

Hope this project will remain always active with your support.

Thank you.

Dr. Sujit

Director, INSTITUTE FOR INDIAN MOTHER & CHILD
Kolkata, India. Email : iimcmision@gmail.com